2. GGF18 survey question was stated “do you plan to attend an OGF event in the near future?”. Response options were Yes, No or Unsure.

Q11. For future events, what types of sessions or program tracks would you like to see more of (check all that apply):

Note: For comparison purposes, not shown on this chart are additional answer options available on the GGF18 survey that were not on the OGF19 survey

Q12. Would you recommend to your colleagues that they attend an OGF event:

Q14. Please provide any comments you have about this event or suggestions you have regarding future OGF events:

- Comments similar to this were expressed by a number of attendees:
 - The quality of the facility including food is outstanding
 - Chapel Hill location is too far away from accommodations and restaurants
 - Publish program early enough that I can make appropriate travel arrangements
 - 5 days is too long
- Would like to see WG have more concrete deliverables with timelines.
- Very concerned that working and research groups are not open to other inputs and feedback.
- The standards work needs to be more relevant to the work that's actually being done by deployed grids
- Provide some online community space (blog or wiki) for each event /session
- Excellent first experience with the Grid community
- Issue an original receipt for OGF fee with stamp and signature
- Push cross-meetings between WGs and work on visualization of relationships between WGs

More Comments...

- My time was well-spent attending OGF19. I might suggest an overview technical session describing grids currently in use, tools/middleware available (not vendor-specific), and how to get started building/integrating with a grid (suggested middleware combinations, etc). This is at a technical level, not at the OGF101 level, and might take the form of an overview session at the beginning of the Software Forum.
- The federated identity workshop was well worth attending
- I was a bit disappointed with the Semantic Web and Grid workshop - most presentations either showed some Grid projects but did not really specify how Semantic Web was being used for them or discussed Semantic Web issues but did not show how it could be beneficial to grid computing. I was expecting the workshop to tie the two together.
- It would be helpful for newbies or people not involved in OGF in general to get a high-level view of the purpose of the different areas via the web site. I doubt that the links to the different charters are provide this

More Comments...

- There is a lot of talk about Enterprise understanding Standards but Standards also needs to understands Enterprise. We speak different languages.
- I really liked having 4.5 days of intense standards sessions. Please repeat this.
- More bof sessions, if you don't fall into one of the special interest groups offering a session it can be difficult to network with others with similar applications.
- It was hard to tell from the agenda on the web site which sessions were the "Enterprise" track. I had to open anything with a likely title and read the abstract. it would be nice to make the agenda easier to search or easier to find things by category/track where applicable.
- Sessions are still mismatched to rooms
- Use on-line news of the day page with links to relevant briefs
- Having access to all the slides for review at a later time is important
